Messages from the President & the Steward

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Hello, I just looked over Dave Bennitt's memo article from this time last year and I could have copied it, I wonder how many would have noticed. IRDC's 6hr enduro had great weather and managed to staff the officials' positions with the constant support from the many regulars and a few volunteers from drivers that weren't racing that weekend. CSCC's Rose City opener also had great weather for the race weekend although the downpours during the driving school on Friday kept things interesting. I was surprised there weren't more entries; the lack of PRO3's was obvious.

As promised in the last article, I had my spec engine back together, in my car and my trailer back from my nephew. I had a fantastic Saturday, right up until I lost it in turn 12 while driving Dave Dunning's car during the mini-enduro. I thought I was actually going to stop before I hit wall but the leader, Michael McAleenan, wasn't so sure, so he threw himself between me and the wall. Short story, I took us both out of the race. Not much I could do for Michael except apologize, but naturally I offered Dave my car for Sunday. After a few back and forth's (Dave wanted me to finish the great weekend I started), another buddy, Will Shrader, offered Dave his Midas car. So thanks to great racing buddies, we both got to race on Sunday. Dave's latest update on his car is that Chris Heinrich has it straightened, parts replaced and painted, just needs an alignment and we're ready to go to Pacific for IRDC's first Championship race. Dave says there is a silver lining, I'm on the list for CSCC's crash and burn this year and not him (I think the car should get it, again).

A few of you remembered my first article and stopped by to check out my new license plate (well a "few" might be an over statement, a couple). It's nice to know someone reads this. The same buddy who was happy when I wrecked his car, took my request to thank every volunteer to heart and gave out gift cards for $5 to every volunteer he could find Saturday evening. I feel cheap now with my worker fund donations. I know everyone can't do something like this, but hopefully you go out of your way to make our volunteers feel good about contributing so much to our events.

Speaking of volunteers, our License Director, Wes Hill, got a new job assignment and will have to work weekends so he can not be the 2016 License Director. Past License Director, Bob Mearns volunteered to cover Race 1 and 2 and past License Director, Greg Miller, volunteered to cover race 3 but wait a driver I have a lot of respect for, after checking with his wife, agreed to come and be assistant License Director at Pacific and if all goes as expected he will become our 2016 License Director.

By the time you read this, IRDC's Car Tender Challenge (May 14/15) will be completed and it will be just about time for CSCC's Chicane Challenge, so hopefully I saw you at the track.

STEWARD'S CORNER

Stewarding is an interesting gig. Like the gross majority of important activities performed for the ICSCC and its member clubs it is a volunteer position but one that generally requires a tap on the shoulder from someone you respect that has the best interest of Conference in mind. Considering the quality and consistency of Conference stewards that went before me I feel quite honored to have been asked to serve. Stewarding turns out to be a fair amount of work but it is also quite rewarding in terms of the positive relationships created with racers, volunteers, track personnel, participants and enthusiasts. Perhaps to further those relationships I can give a brief field guide to observing Steward behavior for those of you who attend our events!

1) What is one thing that all Stewards have in common? No, it isn't that we are all devastatingly handsome – that is just a lucky coincidence. Every Steward was a licensed Conference driver. When we come to your spot in the paddock we really don't WANT to penalize you because we have probably been in your shoes at some point in the past. Stewards don't write rules - we simply enforce rules that were written by ..... yep, you guessed it, drivers. We are just the enforcement arm of something you are doing to yourselves so if we have to penalize you all I can do is suggest you stop hitting yourself in the face.

2) When a Steward comes to your paddock spot to have a serious talk upwards of 95% of you already know what you did, have a firm mental plan to not do it in the future, and are genuinely repentant. Thank you – this makes our job so much easier and more rewarding. Most of you know that the Stewards have a “black book” that holds all violations of our rules sorted by driver over the last several years. When you are bad, one of the first things we do is consult the book to see if you are making a habit of being bad. I can happily report that the overwhelming majority of drivers in Conference either have zero or one entry in that book. This reinforces the idea that while mistakes occasionally happen most of you have a consistent history of fair and safe driving or are so lucky that nobody is looking every time your judgement takes a vacation. I'm betting on the former but I'm not ruling anything out. I will leave it at this - if you are racing you can afford to pay a $50 or $100 fine but the real penalty is the harm to your reputation if you find yourself establishing a pattern in the black book. Your reputation as a driver is priceless.

3) Stewards work closely with a bunch of people who the racers occasionally, and sometimes never, see. If you want trouble with a Steward be short tempered with a volunteer. You cannot imagine the level of professionalism exercised by the framework of people watching over you when you race. If it has been a long time since you did your novice work requirements I would suggest you try to find a little time to work with one of the specialties every year or two for even half a day. While we are on the subject you should try to introduce yourself to at least one volunteer you don't know at every event. These races can't happen without them. Go one better – introduce yourself then buy some vinyl letters from Andy and put their name somewhere on your car. These people LOVE racing or they wouldn't contribute their valuable time to be there and would probably love to see their name going around the track. They may want their name to go around the track faster than their buddy's name but what is bad about that? The number of people rooting for you probably just doubled!

Cascade's Rose City Opener was a great event and relatively clean so keep it up at Pacific for IRDC's Car Tender Challenge. Rain is currently predicted for Sunday so be careful and race hard!

"Motorsports Photography and Video of your Wheels!"

Hello, I'm Austin Bradshaw, I'm 14 years old and my business is Flying Bye Photo!

I take motorsports photography and video in the Pacific Northwest area. We take, sell and edit pictures! We offer many other services as well. We can edit your video and make it the way you want it. We can also get you a HD GoPro Hero 3 so you can take video of your own! And if you have a photo that you want to improve, we can make it the way you want it, such as collages, sponsorship pictures, and custom effects! We even do full-on documentaries for a race weekend!

I take pictures and video at: ICSCC (Our Number 1 Club!), Can-Am Kart Challenge, and SCCA.
