

ICSCC Memo # 4 & 5

June 2021

The Official Publication of the International Conference of Sports Car Clubs

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Hello all!

Recently, Conference volunteers have been spending most of their invaluable time simply reacting to laws chiseled into stone tablets by the oft mentioned Murphy so we can continue holding racing events. I applaud those who are working so hard improvising solutions to problems that we couldn't have even imagined a couple years ago. Our normally scheduled May edition of the Memo was derailed by several of us officers not getting our submissions to Editor Kevin in a timely fashion and then Kevin having some health issues that have prevented him from not only working on the publication but also being the normal, cheerful, and helpful resource I have leaned on for the last couple years. If you are reading this Kevin, from all of us here in Conference who greatly appreciate your contributions and your friendship, get well soon! If you notice this version of the Memo looks a little shabbier and less well produced than usual, I cut up some old versions of Kevin's work and pasted this together just well enough to get some basic info out and in the process, make everyone eagerly anticipate Kevin's return.

May President's report: As I get older, I realize I sometimes have a tendency to drift away from a healthy work/life balance. So many people I know have suffered personally and/or financially from all the recent health, regulatory, political, and social upheavals so I consider myself to have been pretty lucky in comparison. In talking with people it is pretty clear that one of the bigger frustrations is not being able to do the things that they think bring value to their lives. For many people that is travelling, seeing family and friends, enjoying professional sports and concerts, or even just casually wandering in to a restaurant to enjoy a good meal. In my case, and I am guessing at least some of those reading this, I am frustrated by not being able to race my car much over the last year while surrounded by the kind of great people you find at the racetrack. While I was being grumpy about that I realized that when there had been virtually no crazy events acting as barriers to racing I had managed to miss the season opening race at Portland since 2009! Hard to be angry about not having races to attend when you have a long history of missing races that were right there begging for me to show up. I decided to correct that bad habit and get my car prepped for CSCC's season opener this year. The weekend was beautiful, I saw lots the people at the track that I have missed and I knocked a whole lot of racing rust off while gathering a decent haul of Championship points. Now I am kicking myself for not having made it to the first race a little more often for the last decade! I spent some time helping train and making friends with some new CSCC volunteers as well. Cascade has done a good job of recruiting and brought some new blood to the sport who are bright, personable, and excited to participate. Well done!

As a whole the weekend was overwhelmingly positive but I have come to the conclusion that when you have most of your members preoccupied with serious and unprecedented issues and not racing much if at all for over a year there is going to be some rust. Add new volunteers, new rules and procedures, and no RATS meeting to work it out preseason and it had to the potential to be a mess. Not everything went perfectly but the experience and dedication of our drivers and our volunteers carried us through with flying colors.

Welcome back! Get out here and have some fun!

FROM THE PRESIDENT

June President's report: Two weeks after Portland International with Cascade we were at Pacific Raceways with IRDC. In spite of rain seeming to threaten during the Friday Test and Tune, it never really arrived and was mostly sunny for the entire weekend with it actually getting quite warm at times. Anyone who skipped the event at the last minute worrying about weather missed another great event. In several groups the front runners looked like they hadn't lost a step and ran very closely fought, very clean and exciting races.

Unfortunately, the opposite also reared its ugly head as a lack of reps last year combined with a bit of excessive enthusiasm and some mechanical failures led to a few cars not leaving under their own power. I will go ahead and get up on a soapbox I generally don't use much. Nobody wants to have to create and monitor draconian rules intended to prevent incidents—as a group we regulate ourselves and want to encourage everyone involved to make good, common sense decisions. I like that our races include a pretty open level of competition and I think most of us are committed to a high standard of “clean” racing. It is absolutely true that if two cars are being operated at the extreme edge of their performance envelope by talented, competitive drivers for long enough they will find themselves in a situation where one or both will unexpectedly need a little room to complete their maneuver. By definition cars at the edge of their envelope have no margin left to give and that is usually where we find the “racing incident”. The limit may be a car limit, a driver talent limit, or just plain old bad luck and neither driver maybe guilty of having intentionally done the other any harm but from an amateur racing viewpoint both are guilty of not having backed away from the ultimate limit just a couple percent so they would have options when problems arise. I would urge everyone to save just enough to have a chance at options when one of you makes a mistake. I'm not saying anyone should let their competitors win because they are afraid they will wreck them if they try to pass. I'm saying some of the best friends I have in Conference are guys I can race with at 97% consistently. Drivers that I can trust and that know they can trust me. We are racing for inexpensive trophies, not climbing the professional ladder so consider the risk/reward formula before making a move that has a high likelihood of writing off a car. Most of the amateur racing organizations open to people like us have a rule that says “Responsibility for a safe pass is placed on the overtaking driver.” What makes Conference different is our rules make BOTH drivers responsible for a safe overtake.

Now, take all of that fine philosophical muttering and get yourself out to the Cascade Sports Car Club race at Portland International on June 19&20 and the International Race Drivers Club race at Pacific Raceways July 17&18. Race hard, know who you are racing, and race clean. Look out for each other!

STEWARD'S CORNER

First race of the year is under our belts. Weather turned for the nice in Portland and we had a good turn out. A bunch of new cars and lots and lots of annuals were accomplished. I suspect the 2nd race at Pacific will also have a lot of the same.

We had a lot of good racing with only a few incidents on track. There was some overdriving through yellows for one group twice during the weekend. I don't know if I can emphasize enough how important it is to recognize that when safety vehicles are deployed and boots are on the ground, that we as drivers running amateur club racing are responsible for those human lives. There is no acceptable reason to lock up in the braking zone, catch oversteer, or go off in a yellow zone. Please recognize the flags and do what you know is the right thing to do.

Lets talk scales. The scales are set for the weekend. Drive over them several times outside your sessions. We will do every attempt to put you over the scales for a good weight. Please do not weigh your car coming directly off track unless we require a mandatory class weigh. If you do weigh your coming directly off track and you are underweight we are obligated to DSQ your qualifying times or race result. If you want to know your weight after session, drive through the paddock and come back to the scales. At the point, no harm, no foul, no penalty. The scales will be up and running by each club 30 minutes prior to the first session of the day.

You will be seeing a lot a novice racers in the Senior groups. Quite often it could be someone's first race. Conference has built its novice program on the back of the Senior drivers watching and critiquing, the good, the in between, and the need to improve of the Novice races. Now that the Novices are in Senior groups, it is up to the Senior drivers to make contact with the Novices in the paddock and talk to them. Be their coach. Talk to them about what they did good. About what they didn't and how to improve. It really at the heart of ICSCC to take on mentoring role to our newest racers. We all want good fun clean racing and we want new racers to enjoy and experience just that.

Second race of the season at Pacific Raceways showed us with a beautiful sunny weekend. There seemed to be less issues at the scales this weekend. We will keep working them to try and get consistency from track to track.

I missed out on Saturday that seemed to provide quite a lot of action. Many single car offs resulting in some damage to cars and one high speed contact in turn 1 that resulted in quite serious damage to one of the cars. Thank you Duane Martinsen for helping Michael on Saturday and also for crushing a ton more annuals.

Sunday had lots of good racing and very little was forwarded to the Stewards for investigation/action.

Unfortunately, the Spokane triple header has been cancelled. The track is up for sale and rumor has it that Spokane County has received an offer for the facility. Lets hope that the racetrack survives into the future.

Next race will be mid June at Portland.

See you soon.

Cheers, Rick

Now you have great options...

Stay Cool in the Heat of the Summer

The Standard used by many racers

The compact Cool Shirt Club 12 System provides the advantage of system for those racing applications that have limited space and is perfect for road racing — a favorite among ICSCC and SOVREN drivers! The compact Cool Shirt Club 12 System keeps you cool and alert so you look and feel your BEST even when track temperatures exceed 100 F. The 12 quart system complete with ice chest, pump, hoses, mounting tray, and black cotton shirt is specially priced at just $650, a savings of $20 off MSRP.

COOL SHIRT

Techniche Hybrid Vest

Get cool and stay cool with the Techniche Hybrid Vest

Now you have a low-cost option to stay cool for over an hour with the Techkevl vest that utilizes frozen packets of a phase change material. Unlike any cool vest you've seen before, the packets freeze at 58 degrees which means you just throw them in your ice chest and in 20 minutes they are frozen solid.

Personally tested at the Spokane ChumpCar race by Armadillo Andy: "It was about 85 outside and 100 in the car. I wore the vest under my suit and after my 1-1/2 hour stint the vest still had some frozen material. The vest kept me cool so I could focus on not being hit by other ChumpCars."

Complete vest and phase change packets only $199.99. In stock and ready to keep you cool. Officials, Turn Marshals and Crews — You have not been forgotten. Try the Techniche Evaporative Cooling Towels. Just soak in water and you'll stay cool for hours. Only $10.95

REPLACE YOUR HEAVY OLD DRIVING SUIT WITH A NEW LIGHT WEIGHT SUIT

Modern suits from OMP are incredibly lightweight with breathable fabrics to help you reduce body temperature which improves performance.

These suits use an innovative weave on strategically positioned inserts that allow for high breathability while maintaining SFI and FIA approved fire ratings.

"When you deal with Armadillo Racing, not only are you getting top notch quality products and service, you're also supporting an organization that gives back a lot to the sport." Mark McClure — Formula Mazda
